For 2022, Canadian Travel Press is releasing an updated editorial and sales schedule to reflect the challenges the global travel and tourism industry continues to face. Some of the new features include Trends, Strategies in Marketing, Focus on Suppliers. Each feature is designed to tell the stories of individuals and companies who are finding innovative ways to succeed in a difficult environment. The editorial line-up reflects our current plans for 2022, but it is subject to change based on the fluid situation in which our industry continues to find itself.
